

how could i be so wrong

we don't own each other just the right to share each other and make the best
of each and every day
became a green-eyed monster available in every colour drained your bones of the faith on and on and on and i go compulsive impulsive thoughts they drive me insane on and on and on it drives me
just can't sleep
i just can't stop it'll drive you away

even though i had it all i forgot and then i threw it all away how could i be so sad when there was so much to laugh about how could i lose this one good thing i had

just the right to find the love within each other and keep the doubt from the door caught up in duty grew bored of the beauty presented hourly to me on a plate on and on and on i fall and one and one and one makes four it leaves me on the floor

when everything was on my side why did i drive my ship on to the rock how could i be so blind when i was sunning in the light how could snuff that candle out in my life

i'm sorry

found out all along i belong and this is where i want to stay
i wasted all my chances and never get the time back again

how can i be so wrong how did it last so wrong
