

making it harder to be born again

if i come tonight
in the flashing light would you watch me spin out from life's wheel
what will we do in hope's renewal please don't trap me in to your phantom limb trying not be an answer trying not be a bad dancer when most of life is so consuming all romance just self-abusing i'm making it harder to be born again i'm taking world religions on the chin taking a pneumatic drill to the rainbow's end

sever the umbilical wax lyrical
i'm the very last page in the book that you ripped out it's a cold day's dawn
to metal love
next time i'll come back as a plastic bag

tracing the path of least resistance doing my best to keep my distance most of life is so confusing all romance just who you are using

pneumatic drill at the rainbow's end
to be born again
to be born again
to be born again
to be born again

would you watch me fall out
from life's wheel
it's a hard day's dawn
don't leave me buried in a foreign field

making the path of least resistance all of life is so confusing all romance just who you're losing

pneumatic drill to the rainbow's end

to be born again
